Headline:

Saturday variable cloud with some sunny spells. Light showers possible.

Today:

Dry for most, with large cloud amounts. Some brighter intervals developing, especially later in the afternoon. Cloud thickening at times to give a few light showers, these mainly affecting coastal parts of Suffolk and Essex. Breezy near most coasts. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:

A mainly fine night across the region with variable amounts of cloud with some clear spells. Showers mostly dying out. A breeze persisting with strong winds near some coasts. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:

Bright or sunny spells Sunday with a brisk wind taking the edge off the temperature. Thickening cloud bringing an increasing chance of some rain to eastern areas later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Mainly fine and dry weather continuing although rather cloudy with spots of rain or light showers possible. Temperatures near normal, but feeling cooler near coasts.
